

Life Explorer

Curriculum Blueprint & Publishing Architecture

Vision

A curiosity-driven homeschool curriculum organized around 12 Life Categories. Each expedition teaches academic skills through real-world exploration and intentional living.

Book Structure

Each expedition becomes its own curriculum volume. Antarctica is Volume 1.

Section 1 – Welcome

Parent Guide, philosophy, daily rhythm, learning cycle, Wonder Wall, supplies, library list, QR resources.

Section 2 – Teacher Guide

Five daily lesson plans with: Essential Question, Objectives, Parent Backpack, Teacher Script, Morning Basket, Wonder Wall, Reading, Writing, Math, Science, Geography, STEM, Art, Journal connection, Reflection, Extensions.

Section 3 – Curiosity Guide

Organized by child questions. Example: 'Why don't penguins freeze?' → book, video, experiment, journal page, extension.

Section 4 – Student Explorer Journal

Field notebook, maps, observations, vocabulary, predictions, experiments, reflections, presentation planner, passport pages.

Section 5 – Experiment Handbook

Every experiment includes prep time, materials, exact setup, teacher script, questions, cleanup, troubleshooting, vocabulary, journal connection, QR resources.

Section 6 – Printable Pack

Wonder Wall, vocabulary cards, matching games, badges, certificates, passport, portfolio pages.

Section 7 – Resource Library

Curated books, videos, podcasts, virtual field trips, websites, Google Earth locations, recipes, music.

Section 8 – Portfolio

Keepsake pages, photos, best work, presentation, reflection, certificate.

Section 9 – Parent Appendix

Florida standards, skill progression, observation checklists, planning notes.

Life Categories

Fun, Health, Travel, Love, Family, Social, Home, Work, Money, Stuff, Giving, Spirituality.

Style Guide

Every lesson includes: one essential question, one read-aloud, one writing activity, one math connection, one hands-on investigation, one reflection, one Wonder Wall prompt. Every experiment uses common household materials where possible and includes a Parent Backpack checklist.